PORT ST. LUCIE

Keiser University partners with Aerotech Golf

The Keiser University College of Golf & Sport Management announced a new partnership with Aerotech Golf, an composite iron shaft manufacturer on the PGA Tour.

The agreement creates an ambassador program that introduces the PGA Tour's composite iron shaft technology and performance benefits to Keiser students and alumni.

As part of the agreement, Aerotech will provide composite iron shafts for the students' use within the university's custom fitting and golf club repair programs.
