Dr. Nadine Connor to Head Keiser University's New Master's of Science in Nursing, Family Nurse Practitioner Degree Program

Dr. Nadine Connor, board certified, family nurse practitioner with a Doctorate in Nursing Practice from the University of South Florida (USF), Master's of Science in Nursing from the University of Texas, and a Bachelor's of Science in Nursing from Columbia University, has been named the Department Chair of the Family Nurse Practitioner Program at Keiser University.

Dr. Connor has taught in the graduate nursing programs at the University of Texas El Paso, the University of Victoria in British Columbia, and at the USF. She spent the last year in Rwanda, Africa working with the Clinton Health Access Initiative and the Rwanda Ministry of Health (Department of Nursing) in the Human Resources for Health Project. As the E-Learning Advisor for the project, Dr. Connor collaborated with faculty from five Schools of Nursing and Midwifery (5SNM) to assess and enhance a newly launched E-Learning program for the undergraduate nursing students from the 5SNM.
