Keiser University’s Radiology Department Honors Local Hospitals

Miami, FL—Feb. 12, 2014 — The Miami campus of Keiser University recently reached out to local hospitals to honor them for their outstanding service to our students. These hospitals either have a cooperative agreement with the campus to serve as clinical sites or they serve on the Advisory Board for the Radiology Department.

“We are grateful for the partnerships we have developed with health care providers throughout our community,” said Dr. Gary Markowitz, Campus President. Since the Radiologic Technology program started at the Miami campus in 2002, over 290 students have graduated from the program and entered the radiology field.

Leaders from Keiser University visited three hospitals to recognize key players for their commitment to the students in the Radiology programs. Those recognized were Claudio Fernandez, Clinical Instructor and Radiology Supervisor at the University of Miami Health System, Sylvester Comprehensive Cancer Center; Marva Brown, Clinical Instructor and Radiology Supervisor, Shanoi Martinez and Stephanie Soriano, Staff Technologists at the University of Miami Hospital; Gladys Lopez-Trigo, Radiology Supervisor and Clinical Instructor with the Miami Veterans Affairs Healthcare System.

About: Keiser University is a private, not-for-profit university serving nearly 20,000 students pursuing doctoral through associate degrees on 15 campuses, online and internationally, employing 3,500 staff and faculty.
